WELCOME

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the PHASE 1 organization, I would like to welcome you to the 10th anniversary of the RUMBLE IN THE T-DOT, Canada's only National High School Basketball All Star game. Part of the 2010 ALL CANADA CLASSIC basketball weekend, this event has enjoyed a rich tradition of showcasing the premier high school basketball athletes from across the country. Tonight we look to continue and honour that tradition by celebrating Canada's best.

For over ten years PHASE 1 has provided academic and athletic opportunities for youth across Canada, through the development of events and services. PHASE 1 is a non-profit organization administered by volunteers and many are youth from our after school programs who receive volunteer hours towards graduation and valuable work experience. We would like to thank all of the youth, parents and volunteers that make PHASE 1's services possible, for without their support events such as this would not be possible. Most importantly, we would like to thank you for your continued support of the RUMBLE IN THE T-DOT and the ALL CANADA CLASSIC basketball weekend. We hope you enjoy the 10th anniversary of this event and look forward to seeing you again in the near future.

God Bless,

Wayne Dawkins
Founder PHASE 1

SPONSORS AND PARTNERS

The 10th anniversary of the All Canada Classic is intended to be a celebration of Canada's elite young athletes and an opportunity to see the country's best perform on a national stage. We are certain that the 2010 edition will be a highly entertaining event, and one that will help to secure its existence for years to come. We appreciate the contributions of everyone involved and we gratefully acknowledge the support of the following event sponsors:

ACC HISTORY

The “Rumble in the T-Dot” started as a challenge from the Dawkins Youth Developmental Program to the rest of Canada in 1997. Co-founded by Wayne Dawkins and Saeed Al-Naji, they knew their program had the best basketball talent in the country and were willing to take on anyone on both sides of the border. In the summer of 1998, the Dawkins Toronto Elite Development Club joined with another local club to form Grassroots Canada. They instantly became a powerhouse in the North American basketball landscape, producing a number of NCAA Division 1 players including Denham Brown, Jermaine Anderson, and Carl English to name a few.

To raise awareness of this organization in Canada and to celebrate the success of its Canadian athletes, the group started the first ever Rumble In The T-Dot National High School All-star Game in 1999. It was at this event that Toronto's best were put up against Ontario and the rest of Canada. The event was a huge success, and has become an annual basketball event ever since.

Over the years, the Rumble In The T-Dot has continued to grow in size and scope. Although the event originally took place at St. Michael's College, it has travelled to many venues including 'standing room only' dates at Centennial College, Ryerson University, and most recently Seneca College. What was once a small grassroots event for high school basketball fans has become a key stop on the way to post-secondary and professional careers for the country's brightest young stars. The game became a weekend event with the addition of the All Canada Classic Awards Banquet in 2002; added to recognize the talent, potential, and success of Canada's basketball athletes, coaches, and administrators. Also, a girls game was introduced in 2004 to showcase the number of female Canadian athletes who were making names for themselves, including the likes of Alisha Tatham, Kalisha Keane, Stephanie Skyrba, and May Kotsopolous. More than just a basketball game, the event has also managed to attract celebrities from all over Canada, including appearances by Canadian musical artists such as Kardinal Offishal, Ray Robinson, JD Era, and Drake.

While the All Canada Classic continues to gain national interest and attract an ever-growing audience of sport enthusiasts and basketball elite, it is important to note that the event would not be made possible without generous corporate sponsorships and the personal commitments and dedication of the PHASE 1 staff and numerous volunteers. We thank you for your support and hope that we can continue to showcase Canada's young basketball athletes for many years to come.

LITERACY INITIATIVE

“Literacy is for the mind what air is for the ball.
Without it one cannot play the game of life”

- Wayne Dawkins (PHASE 1 founder)

Each year PHASE 1 champions a cause in conjunction with the All Canada Classic basketball weekend. This year we chose to support the importance of literacy through a number of educational initiatives.

As part of the All Canada Classic weekend, PHASE 1 chose to partner with Canadian author Eric Walters in support of “Home Team” (the 10th instalment of a series co-written with ex-Toronto Raptors player Jerome “JYD” Williams and his brother Johnnie Williams III). The All Canada Classic 10-10-10 literacy program featured a city wide essay competition constructed by Chris Reid and the African Canadian Leadership Committee (ACLC), as well as a Reading Buddies program that teamed up our nation’s top basketball players with a group of young readers. These contests were specially designed to challenge students to connect literacy with sports. The Authors vs. Readers celebrity game will allow select students who participated in the All Canada Classic reading program to play against athletes such as former Toronto Raptors players Pops Mensah-Bonsu and Jerome “JYD” Williams.

As well, the All Canada Classic is helping to raise money for Literature for Life, a local charity that provides literacy tools for young mothers in the province of Ontario. Literature for Life will benefit from the proceeds of the weekend’s book sales and 50/50 draws.

GETTING MY CROWN

By Alexandra Dennie
ACLC Essay Winner

Nothing but excitement when I step on the court
Making that first move feels like dough
Gotta get schooled when you're playing with me
Nothing but net just the swish you'll see
Feeling like a champ can't back down
Knowing that I can make it when game time comes around
Now it's time to hit the books can't play around
Just like basketball trying I am just trying to get my crown
Being something in life is what I want to do
You can't back down 'cause life wouldn't back down for you
Being the best is what I want to be
Basketball can be a life but I want to make one too.

We would like to thank Orca Book Publishers and Mabel's Fables Children's Book Store for helping us make the 2010 All Canada Classic a major literacy celebration.

CONGRATULATIONS!

To the TDSB students and staff involved in the All Canada Classic, it is truly an honour to represent high school basketball at this level.

Boys2Men

TDSB Director Dr. Chris Spence and colleagues Alan Davis, Gord Young and Tim Skinner started Boys2Men at Oakdale Park MS in 1993. Boys sign up for a mentor who works with them throughout the year to discuss homework, assignments and test preparation.

Young Women on the Move

Aimed at girls in Grades 3 to 12, this program is building on existing mentorship programs to develop a socially conscious network of young women and mentors.

Hoops4Hope

The Hoops4Hope All-Stars basketball team is made up of dedicated administration, teachers and other staff who love to play basketball and are passionate about education. With the belief that every student deserves an equitable chance at success, the All-Stars are reinforcing the idea that poverty does not have to equal failure in Toronto's schools.

TDSB Idol

Malvern C.I.'s Talene Francis-Prettie won the inaugural TDSB Idol Challenge at the Toronto Centre for the Arts on April 12. Twelve finalists performed in front of a crowd of hundreds.

Believe It!

The largest school board in Canada and the fourth-largest in North America, the TDSB includes nearly 600 schools and serves more than 250,000 students each year. We are committed to improving student achievement, parent and community engagement and financial stability.

"Hope is what drives improvement. And improving our schools and ultimately our students' outcomes is what we're all hoping – and striving – for."

— Dr. Chris Spence, TDSB Director

2010 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

For the first time in 10 years the national championships return to Ontario.

The province will be hosting the 15U and 17U championships for girls in the summer of 2010 and the boys in the summer of 2011.

The 2010 national event will be hosted in partnership with Ontario Basketball, Canada Basketball and Humber College.

The championships will welcome the top coaches and athletes in the 14 to 17 age range from across the country and take place August 2nd to 7th at Humber College.

The 15U girls aspire to defend their national championship while the 17U girls will look to win gold following a bronze at the Canada Summer Games in 2009.

With dates and locations confirmed, Ontario Basketball will be holding several exciting events in conjunction with the Canada Basketball National Championship. The goal is to bring the province together to create a true championship weekend.

Running from August 1st to 4th, Coach School will feature elite coaches from across Ontario in an intimate and interactive learning environment. Participants will be divided into groups of five and assigned an elite coach from the coaches attending as mentors. Mentor coaches include Michele Belanger (University of Toronto), Theresa Burns (McMaster University), Chantal Vallee (University of Windsor), Andrea Blackwell (St. Lawrence College), Shawnee Harle (University of Calgary), Christine Stapleton (former coach, NEDA), Georgia Risnita (former coach, University of Windsor) and Sue Lindley (former coach, McMaster University).

Don't miss out on your chance to be part of a national championship experience! For tickets, volunteer opportunities, event registration and more information, visit:
